FROM OUR INSTITUTIONS

LOYOLA, ALUVA

March and April were eventful months for us, at Loyola. On 5 March we, the six novices, formally received cassocks, symbolizing our willingness to offer ourselves totally to God. That very day the ministries of Acolyte and Lector were conferred upon us by Fr Joseph Kallepallil, our Provincial, during a Solemn Eucharist Celebration. During the Eucharist Fr Provincial gave us an inspiring homily on the importance of mission in the Society. The Mass was followed by a delicious supper and a community get-together. Besides our own community members, Frs Paul Vadakel, Mathew Nampiaparambil, Roy Thottathil, Martin Puthussery and Sch. Binu Joseph attended the function and blessed us. We had prepared ourselves well for this great event through a 2-day retreat under the brilliant guidance of Fr Abraham Pallivathukkal. Wearing cassocks for the first time in our lives, was indeed a thrilling experience!

And then on the ides of March we marched out for our Mission Experiment. Like the Apostles, we too were sent in pairs; Anjo and Deslin to Chemboor; Amal and Sebin to Anchuthengu and Libin and Joy to Mariapuram. This one month gave each one of us lots of enriching experiences. For the first time we directly experienced the thrills and crosses of working in the vineyard of the Lord. We are deeply grateful to Frs Zucol, OP Mathew, PT Augustine, Dominic Madathaniyil, Benny Chirammel and Emmanuel Koyan who accompanied and guided us during this Experiment with wonderful diligence and care. Thank you very much Fathers, for all the care and encouragement you have given us! We will always cherish our first ever exposure to the 'missions'. Before being sent on the Mission Experiment we had a very fruitful session with Fr Martin Puthussery who has gently led us into the complex and angst-filled world of the migrant labourers in Kerala. Thank you Fr Martin! We look forward to learning more from you.

We returned to Loyola on 16 April, and gradually got back into the rhythm of the novitiate. In the last week of April we were privileged to have our dear Fr C.J. Joseph with us. What a delight it was to have him once again with us! He taught us several new hymns and helped us revise some of the old ones. Thank you Fr C.J! Please do come to Loyola again and again! Fr P.T. Mathew who belongs to our community (when he is in the Province) joined us on 22 April. Fr Jacob Madukakuzhy, who was away practically for the whole of March and April directing retreats, finally returned to Loyola on 26 April. So for the first time in the year all the members of our community are here together! Sch. Binu Joseph has been at Loyola from the middle of March preparing for his exams. These days his exams are in progress. His presence was a blessing to Loyola especially when we the novices were away. Fr Saji has been busy all these days supervising the maintenance and repair works, the latest being the repairs of our big well. During our absence

Fr Master found time to direct two retreats - one for the Deacons of Alappuzha diocese and the other for two Brothers of St John of God. During the last month, Frs Anthraper, EJ Thomas, T.V.John, John Francis and Sch. Rubil and Sheise honoured us with short visits.

SAMEEKSHA & ATMAMITRA

Month of April witnessed a lot of life and vitality on Sameeksha and Atmamitra campuses. Three five-day SALT programmes organized by Atmamitra and conducted by our scholastics ably supported by a few local volunteers were well attended. A total of 167 students took part in the camps here. Two three-day camps were organized at Sarvodaya Eachome (in collaboration with our Jesuit Community for youth of Nadavayal Forane) and Ignatian Retreat Centre (in collaboration with JEA) attended by an additional 79 students. We provided subsidy / sponsorship for about 20 students in all the camps together. Fr Toby also gave Youth Animators' Training Programmes for Seminarians of Irinjalakuda and Kothamangalam Dioceses and for Holy Family Sisters of Irinjalakuda Province. News is pouring in from our ministry schools about cent percent or very close to cent percent results. Schools in general had been very appreciative of our services and have referred our services to other schools and colleges.

About 15 people (mostly Jesuits) are making their annual retreat with Fr Joe Pulickal at Sameeksha.

S.M.FARM, PARIYARAM

Samskriti organized a 5-day Social Awareness and Leadership Training (SALT) camp at IRC for about 50 students of 10, 11 & 12th classes from a dozen parishes of Chirakkal mission, in collaboration with Little Flower Boys' Home Alumni Charitable Trust consisting of former students of Mattul orphanage. The camp was conducted by our scholastics, Gijo Kochuparambil, Shibin Pottananickal, Emmanuel Puthuveetil, Nikhil George, Jithin Joseph and Amal Sebastian. With the unique methodology of learning through games, exercises and experiences the camp was rated very high by the participants. Some of the skills they learned were public speaking, acting, newspaper writing and self awareness. Along with a class on Career Guidance, their visit to Samskriti Career Guidance and Information Centre at Pilathara, gave them a firsthand experience of our Centre which they wanted to popularize among their friends and peers in the parishes; an additional objective of this camp. Their visit to 'HOPE', an Institute for the very sick and abandoned people, gave them awareness of the social realities and motivation to do something about it. The participants wanted more of such camps with longer duration. Back in their parishes, some of them shared their camp experiences with the people in the parish during Sunday Mass. The scholastics were highly appreciated for their creative sessions and friendly approaches. Some of them endeared themselves to the participants as youthful heroes. Kudos to them.

LOYOLA, TRIVANDRUM

Loyola Extension Services, Trivandrum, conducted 3 days' Training for 49 headmistresses of Franciscan Clarist Congregation at LES on April 1-4, 2013. Fr Joye James conducted 4 two-day workshops in April 2013 for FCC Superiors at Aluva, CMC Superiors at Changanacherry, UMI Provincial Team at Vythiri and SH Sisters at Dwaraka. He attended the Xavier Board of India Triennial convention in Mysore and got elected to the National Executive committee of the Xavier Board for 3 years.

FROM FRANCE

The major event of the month was the diaconate ordination of twelve Jesuit scholastics, of which two were Indians, by Mgr Pascal Delannoy, the Bishop of Saint - Denis in the Jesuit Church of St Ignatius, Paris, in a very solemn and spiritual ceremony. Fr Lisbert D'Souza, the regional Assistant for Southern Asia, was here to take part in the ceremony. The biting cold days of the winter season has given way to the sunny days of spring. Paris now looks really beautiful and bright with different colours of flowers and trees. Taking a break from the busy schedules of our intellectual and apostolic works, the community altogether went out to Epernom, a beautiful village outside Paris, for a weekend community gathering. The two-day programme was marked by reflecting on the letter of Father General on the Year of Faith, prayer, sharing, silence and outing. It gave us the opportunity to come together and experience our companionship as Jesuits in our international atmosphere. Both of us, Sooraj and Vibin, started our ministry as spiritual guides to two different Communauté Vie Chrétienne (CVX) groups. The CVX is an active lay movement in France, which follows the Ignatian Spirituality as its way of life. As the end of the academic year is coming closer, both of us are busy with a dissertation and the exam preparation.

FROM LONDON (UK)

April was a significant month for us. We started our month with the British Province Meet. It was a good experience for all of us. The 2013 British Province Meeting began in a good spirit. Along with the British Jesuits the Jesuits living and working in the UK who represented Jesuits from all over the world gathered together in the Hayes Conference Centre in Derbyshire. It was delightful to see the British Jesuits surrounded by so many young men from India, Africa, Latin America as well as from the other parts of Europe. Fr Alberto Brito, the Provincial of Portugal was the chief guest for the meeting. He delivered a talk on how the major changes made in the Portuguese Province in the 1970s produced great results over the last 40 years. The talk was well appreciated by the audience.

Lambeth Interfaith group gave a power point presentation on Kerala. John Woodhouse and Maud Mateley, who had come for Xavier Tharamel's ordination in Kerala, delivered a talk on the Church and the inter-religious dimension of Kerala, during the gathering of the Lambeth Interfaith group. Now we are focusing more on our studies as we are going to start our exams next week. Fr Xavier is making good efforts to complete his M.A. studies. Writing of essays, dissertation work by Xavier and exam preparations are really making us mentally active and vibrant, these days. Thousands of people gathered to witness the funeral procession of Former British Prime Minister, Baroness Margret Thatcher.

FROM THE CHINESE PROVINCE

A Jesuit Giant in Mainland China goes to his reward. Bishop JIN Luxian (Aloysius) S.J. breathed his last on April 27. He was born on June 20, 1916, of devoted Catholic Parents who died when he was a young boy. At first a seminarian, after Philosophy he joined the Society of Jesus in 1938 and was ordained in Shanghai in 1945. He did his Tertianship in Paray-le-Monial and Doctorate in Theology in Rome. Returning to Shanghai in 1951, he was appointed Acting Provincial and Acting Rector of the Major Seminary and then he made his solemn Profession. Imprisoned by the Communists in 1955, first in Shanghai, then in Beijing, he was sent to a Labour Camp and finally on parole to a Government Translation Department for 10 years, because he was well versed in seven languages. He returned to his native city only in 1982 and took up one of the jobs he was doing when imprisoned – Rector of the Major Seminary that was currently managed by the Chinese Patriotic Association. So, at 65 Fr JIN chose the road less travelled. The simple fact is that Fr JIN took another view to the prevailing orthodoxy among Catholics in the 1950's – that the Communist Party was a fleeting thing in China's history that the Nationalists on Taiwan would be back any moment. Fr JIN treaded the thin line between recognizing the authority of the Communist Government while sticking to what he believed was most basic and important to Catholicism in China. He was made Bishop of Shanghai in 1988. He got back Church Property from the Communist Government that respected him. He made relentless efforts to give people of all kinds a chance in life – the students, the children, the men and women in Shanghai and beyond it whom he fostered and prompted to new and different ways of serving the Church and spreading the Good News. As a Jesuit, he was ready to embrace humiliation and rejection as part of the challenge in following Jesus. Another feature of his personality that was always a delightful thing to witness was his simple affection and readiness to receive affection from friends and those helping him, particularly in his declining years. When I visited his residence on April 17, 2008, I was not able to meet him and receive his blessing, because he had taken ill. The Chancellor met me and took me on a tour of the Cathedral where there are beautiful statues of St Ignatius and St Francis Xavier. ... Will you believe it?! Here in our Province Infirmary, our healthy and cheerful 100-year old Fr George Beauregard is getting ready for his home-visit to Montreal, Canada!

SOCII MEET

Socii of South Asia had a training programme at JDV PG Block, Pune, from 08-12 April 2013. Fr Agnelo Mascarenhas, the Under Secretary of the Society of Jesus, Fr Christie Kujur, the secretary of the South Asia and Fr Peter Raj, the socius to the POSA were the resource persons who enlightened us and trained us to become effective socii in our Assistancy. Two former Provincials, Frs Bertie Rosario of Pune and George Pattery of Calcutta had a sharing session with us making us aware of the importance and the responsibilities of the socius to the provincial and to the province. Fr Bertie bluntly put it as a 'dirty job' as the socius has no powers and his work carries no glamour. Yet it is an important mission and task in the province as he plays the role of "the hands and mind of the Provincial". The resource team urged the Socii to learn and familiarize with the 'Practica Quaedam' and the 'Manual for juridical practice of the Society of Jesus' which give clarity about their work, especially with regard to the communication between the Roman Curia and the Province. Fr Christie Kujur shared about the archives at Rome and highlighted the role of Socius in maintaining the archives, both the living and historical, in the Province. We spent enough time learning with our laptop to update the database in Rome through the Socius webpage. Fr Peter Raj spoke about the structure and functions of POSA and his team. Fr Edward Mudavassery, our POSA, found time to visit us and to enlighten us about the various needs of the International Society and the common Houses in the Assistancy, and the role of Socii in helping the Provincial and the POSA to meet these needs. We had the opportunity to experience the hospitality of St Vincent's, Pune, while we were having an evening dinner with them. Fr Francis D'Souza, the Socius of Pune Province, organized the whole programme meticulously. The ambience and the eco-friendly atmosphere of JDV PG Block along with the companionship of the Socii made us refreshed as we got back to our Provinces.

Sunny Kunnappallil

YOUNG PRIESTS' MEET

Eighteen Young Priests of Kerala Province gathered together under the leadership of Fr Sunny Kunnappallil on 27-28 April 2013 at Vidyaniketan, Thumba. Fr Biju George, the co-ordinator of young priests, extended a warm welcome to the gathering and explained the purpose of the gathering. Fr Sunny Kunnappallil highlighted the need for ongoing formation for young priests and initiated a sharing on "our impression and understanding about the new Jesuit Pope". The group shared their experiences and impressions about the new Pope and how Pope Francis had inspired and influenced their Jesuit life and mission. One of them said, "The new Pope is a true Jesuit who has imbibed the real Jesuit training and has the DNA of a true Jesuit". Yet another said, "the new Pope has validated the ideals and life style of Kerala Jesuits which is marked by simplicity, love for the poor, and the inclusive mission." The sharing was followed by a half-day recollection and silence. Fr Sunny urged us to reflect seriously on our experiences of vowed life in our personal life and mission. The rest of the day was spent on sharing our experience of living the 'three vows' and listening to the rich experiences of our companions. In the evening the newly ordained priests Biju Joy and Saji Joseph celebrated the Eucharist for the group. On the second day the outgoing priests Salvin and K. J. Thomas celebrated the Eucharist for the group. Then the group sat for a planning session and tentatively finalised the days for triduum in the month of November. The group expressed their gratitude and appreciation to Fr K. J. Thomas who organized the delicious food and the comfortable stay at Vidyaniketan. Under the able leadership of Fr Ranjit the group had a refreshing and rejuvenating picnic to Kallar.

JESA COLLOQUIUM - NEW DELHI

Thirty Jesuits of India with some of their collaborators, invited by the JESA Secretariat, met at the Indian Social Institute, New Delhi from 15 to 17 March 2013 to deliberate on the future of our Social Action ministry, in the changed environment of the Indian state and to identify areas and methodologies for effective interventions and collaboration with institutions, movements, citizens and civil society. POSA inaugurated the colloquium and eminent persons like Mr John Dayal, Dr B.D. Sharma, Dr. Charles Irudayam (CBCI) and Sr Shalini (Vidya Jyoti) were some of the resource persons and observers at this deliberation.

The objectives of the deliberation were:

- i. To analyze the present state of affairs of SA and identify the causes for the same,
- ii. To recognize the challenges and the opportunities before SA ministry in the present socio-political and economic context,
- iii. To come out with a framework for our response (Action Plan).
- iv. This framework could then provide a guideline for zonal/province level deliberation in order to develop concrete plan of action for the next five years.

We have brought out an orientation statement for JESA (in draft form) which is titled as "OUR COMMITMENT TO THE MAKING OF A VIBRANT DEMOCRACY IN INDIA". It will be discussed and reflected together at various levels (Province/Zonal/National) and finally bring out a document for JESA at the JCSA level by 2014. From Kerala Province, Frs George Thenadikulam and MK George (representing ISI, Bangalore) participated in this colloquium. It was an inspiring occasion for many of us, to be part of an important deliberation with some of the prominent Jesuit social activists, theologians and intellectuals who instilled a fire in us with their in-depth sharing, reflections and passion.

JUBILEE OF THE RESTORATION OF THE SOCIETY

The Society is commemorating the 200th anniversary of the Restoration of the Society in 2014. The Kerala Tidings will carry reflections on the suppression and restoration of the Society by Fr Varghese Malpan in the coming months.

No. 01

Learning from the History of the Suppression and the Restoration of the Society of Jesus

(An exercise in humility and acceptance)

Pope Clement XIV's (1705–1774) brief of July 1773 suppressing the Jesuit order was preceded by a series of repressive acts, starting with the expulsion of the fathers from Portugal and its colonies in 1759. The Jesuit affair set in a major communication process throughout Europe and saw the transfer of opposing narratives of the events by means of the various contemporary media. It thereby contributed to the polarization and politicization of the European public sphere in the age of enlightenment.

While historians have rightly described the brief Dominus ac Redemptor of July 1773 as a major event in church history, it came as no surprise to most of Europe's contemporary newspaper readers and had in fact been long anticipated with either foreboding or delight, depending on the reader's perspective. Indeed the issuing of the papal brief was treated as an event of minor importance by the contemporary media, particularly when compared with the frenzy of fifteen years earlier when the first news of the expulsion of the Jesuits from Portugal spread all over Europe and led to journal articles, new and specialized periodicals, satirical engravings, prints and pamphlets, compilations of documents and multi-volume tracts. When Portugal's minister Sebastião José de Carvalho e Melo (1699–1782), Marquês de Pombal, began his assault on the Jesuit religious order in 1759, the echo was heard all over Europe, both in Catholic and Protestant states. This momentous event prompted journalists, authors and translators, engravers, anthologists and editors to comment on the affair, thus fuelling a transnational debate that soon turned into a battle of fundamental ideas about state, society and religion. Engaging a larger informed public in the recipients of the 'latest news', this debate provides evidence for the formation of a European public sphere transcending the social frontiers. Moreover, the debate demonstrates how in early modern Europe a major media event could serve as an important catalyst for the transfer of ideas and discourses. The polarization of the public sphere during the age of enlightenment and the reciprocal condemnation of adversarial groups like philosophes, Jansenists, and Jesuits may therefore be regarded to some degree as the result of transfer processes initiated by transnational media events.

FROM CURIA ROME

With Pope Francis at the Beginning of his Pontificate: is the title of the letter, dated March 14, that Father General wrote to the whole Society, noting that "it is a clear fact that the whole Church is observing and listening to the words and actions of the new Pope with great expectation. A general atmosphere of hope is tangibly perceived everywhere. There is a perfect fit between this hope and the name Francis that the Pope has chosen, as a prediction of renewal and reform that the Church itself wishes for all of us." Recalling the personal meeting of March 17, he adds: "Pope Francis feels deeply Jesuit, and he has manifested this in several moments during these days. We find an evident sign of this on his papal coat of arms as well as in the personal response he wrote to me on 16 March replying to my letter of the 14th." The letter reaffirm the union of the Society with the new Pope: "The Society continues to be united with the Holy Father in the person of Pope Francis whom we regard as our Superior. As we consider the complex issues and problems that he will have to face, we Jesuits need to reaffirm our support to the Holy Father and offer him - unconditionally - all our resources and help, be that in the theological, scientific, administrative or spiritual areas." He concludes: "It is solely from an attitude of humility that we will be able to cooperate in building up a Church poor and for the poor that can grow ever more daily, according to the heart of God and his son Jesus. Without any kind of triumphalism, let us make explicit with renewed vigor and zeal the closeness of the Society to our brother Francis. This is the moment to respond to his petition: to pray with him and for him. As friends in the Lord, we aim to accompany him in his journey of Cross and Life and, in accordance with our ecclesial spirituality, we place ourselves at his disposal with the same sentiments of joy and trust experienced by the whole Church."

THE SOCIETY OF JESUS IN NUMBERS

The new statistics of the Society of Jesus as of January 1st, 2013 have been published.

As of 1 January 2013, the total number of Jesuits was 17,287: 12,298 priests, 1,400 brothers, 2,878 scholastics, and 711 novices - a net loss of 337 members from 1 January 2012.

Table 1 (Comparison Among Assistancies) presents the number of members in each category for each Assistancy. The 2012 and 2013 statistics are presented, noting the difference between the two years. The column Novitii presents the sums of Scholastic Novices, Brother Novices, and Indifferent Novices. The Novice Priests, are counted under the Sacerdotescolumn.
